To Whom it May Concern:

Nathan Humphries has worked at Evans Data as an analyst for the past several years. During that time, he has shown himself to be an excellent analyst with a high level of intelligence plus a knack for finding innovative solutions. He has a solid background in math and physics as well as a deep understanding of technical subjects and brings these talents to the job.

In addition, he has an excellent work ethic and is very easy to get along with. He's an excellent team player.

I would highly recommend Nathan for any position of responsibility without any reservations at all.

Sincerely

Janel Garvin
CEO, Evans Data Corp.
